About the Conference

Goods and Service Tax (GST) is one indirect tax for the whole nation, which will make India one unified common market. It is proposed to have tremendous benefit for the Central and State Governments, trade and industry and the consumer.

A system of seamless tax-credits throughout the value-chain, and across boundaries of States, would ensure that there is minimal cascading of taxes. Backed with a robust end-to-end IT system, GST would be simpler and easier to administer than all other indirect taxes of the Centre and State levied so far and would certainly lead to higher revenue efficiency.

The objectives of the Conference are:

- ◆ To bring together experts and academicians from multiple disciplines and fields like Economics, Commerce, Taxation, Administration, research scholars, students and the common man for an intellectual debate on various issues connected with the implementation of GST.
- ◆ To throw light on the short-term and long-term impact on the various sectors of the economy namely industry, trade, the service sector and the rural sector
- ◆ To analyse the implications on macro variables, healthcare, real estate and the parallel economy.
- ◆ To study its distributional impact on the various sections of society viz. small entrepreneurs, traders and the common man.

An attempt will be made to arrive at policy recommendations which can be forwarded to the various decision-making bodies to improve socio-economic welfare through fiscal reforms.
