About the Conference

The Indian National Movement culminated in India's independence in 1947, a transition marked by British manipulations that served their interests. Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel was instrumental in uniting the princely states and shaping India's early bureaucracy. His practical approach to national integration and economic policies laid the groundwork for the nation's future development. As we celebrate the 150th birth anniversary of this visionary leader, it is crucial to reexamine his vision for a self-reliant and inclusive India. This reflection will provide insights into addressing contemporary challenges and ensuring a prosperous future. This Seminar seeks to bring together scholars from diverse fields for a day of thoughtful discussion, exploring both the historical and present-day impact of Patel's vision, as well as contemplating its relevance for India's future trajectory.
