Alongside these major initiatives, IQAC also facilitated a wide range of lectures, workshops, student-centric programmes, skill-building masterclasses and international collaborations, further strengthening teaching-learning processes, enhanced student support systems, promoted research culture, and reinforced institutional excellence.

I commend Prof. Dr. Mona Mehta, IQAC Coordinator, for her outstanding efforts throughout the year. Her tireless efforts have been instrumental in driving continuous quality enhancement and shaping the institution's enduring pursuit of excellence.

MKES Centre for Foreign Languages

The MKES Centre for Foreign Languages was initiated with the objective of enhancing students' linguistic competencies and global employability by offering structured certification programmes in foreign languages. In keeping with this vision, the Centre commenced its first academic activities during the current academic year.

The Centre successfully launched its first batches of the German and French language programmes towards the end of August, marking an important milestone in the academic expansion of the institution in the area of foreign language education.

The programmes were structured in accordance with the requirements of Level 1 certification, focusing on building foundational language skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

Students enrolled in the German and French Level 1 programmes completed the prescribed course of study and appeared for the qualifying examination in February. This examination served as a formal assessment of their language proficiency and readiness to progress to higher levels of study.

The successful conduct of the qualifying examination reflects the effective planning and execution of the programmes by the Centre, as well as the sustained engagement and commitment of the students.

In order to ensure continuity and accommodate new learners, the Centre will now be commencing another batch for Level 1. Simultaneously, plans are in place to continue with Level 2 for the existing cohorts in the next academic year.

I thank Mr. Ashley Fernandes, Dr. Amrita Aggarwal and Mr. Bryan Coutinho for their creative and enthusiastic endeavours in ensuring a successful beginning for the MKES Centre for Foreign Languages.

Annual Report of Green Club
Academic Year 2025-26

The Green Club of the College continued to actively promote environmental awareness and sustainable practices during the academic year 2025–26. With a strong commitment to climate responsibility and ecological conservation, the Club organized a series of academic, awareness-based, and action-oriented activities throughout the year. A total of eleven major programs were conducted focusing on climate change, biodiversity, waste management, water conservation, and sustainable development.

The academic year commenced with a Certificate Course on "Living with Climate Change and Water Management" conducted on 7th August 2025 in collaboration with UNICEF. This course sensitized students to the growing challenges of climate change, sustainable water usage, and community-level adaptation strategies. It encouraged students to understand their role as responsible citizens in mitigating environmental risks. Soon after, on 14th August 2025, a Quiz on Biodiversity was organized to enhance awareness about ecosystem diversity, endangered species, and conservation strategies. The quiz format encouraged interactive learning and strengthened environmental literacy among participants.

In August 2025, the Green Club also organized a Poster Making Competition on Marine Pollution, where students creatively highlighted issues such as plastic waste in oceans and its impact on marine life. During the same month, from 18th to 22nd August 2025, a campus-wide E-Waste Drive was conducted to promote responsible disposal of electronic waste. Students and staff actively contributed obsolete gadgets and batteries, which were later sent for proper recycling, reinforcing the importance of sustainable waste management and circular economy practices.

The month of September 2025 witnessed experiential environmental activities. On 7th September 2025, students participated in a Beach Clean-Up Drive to address coastal pollution and promote environmental volunteering. On the same day, a Water Footprint Calculation activity was conducted to help students assess their individual water consumption patterns and understand the importance of reducing water wastage. These initiatives provided practical exposure to sustainability concepts and encouraged behavioral change.

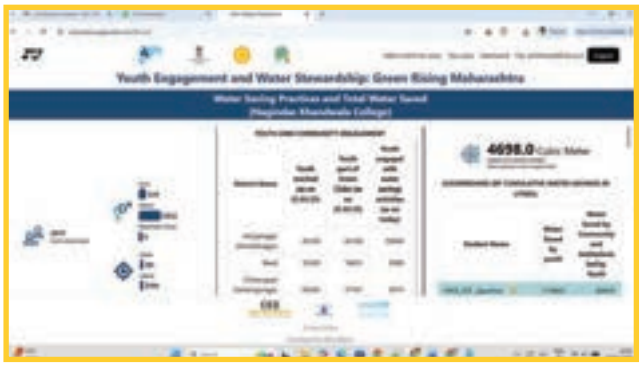

In December 2025, the Club organized a Poster Making Competition on Waste Management to promote the principles of Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle. This was followed by a Quiz on Sustainable Development Goals on 12th December 2025, aimed at familiarizing students with global sustainability frameworks and the 17 SDGs adopted by the United Nations. On 15th December 2025, students were introduced to digital water conservation practices through the Whywaste application, demonstrating how technology can assist in monitoring and reducing water consumption. We are proud to say that with this initiative, the club was able to save 4698.0 Cubic meter of water till date.

The Green Club further strengthened its environmental action initiatives through a Sapling Plantation Drive held on 16th and 17th January 2026 within and around the campus. This initiative contributed to enhancing the green cover and promoting biodiversity on campus. Another Beach Clean-Up Drive was conducted on 8th February 2026, reaffirming the Club's continuous efforts toward marine conservation and environmental responsibility.
In addition to organizing awareness and outreach programs, the Green Club plays a significant institutional role by conducting the Green Audit, Energy Audit, and Environment Audit of the College.

These audits systematically assess the campus's environmental performance, including energy consumption patterns, water usage, waste management systems, carbon footprint, and overall ecological practices. The audit process helps identify areas for improvement and ensures that the institution aligns with sustainability standards and environmental compliance requirements. The findings of these audits guide policy decisions, infrastructure improvements, and future environmental initiatives of the college.

Overall, the academic year 2025–26 was marked by consistent efforts to integrate sustainability into campus life. Through educational programs, practical drives, digital initiatives, and institutional audits, the Green Club successfully fostered environmental consciousness among students and staff. ગુજરાતી સાહિત્ય મંડળ વાર્ષિક અહ્

નાગીનદાસ ખાંડવાલા કોલેજનું ગુજરાતી સાહિત્ય મંડળ (GSM), એક સક્રિય અને ઉત્સાહી સંગઠન છે. જ્યાં ગુજરાતી ભાષિક અલ્પસંખ્યક (Gujarati Minority) વર્ગના વિદ્યાર્થીઓ વિવિધ ગુજરાતી કાર્યક્રમો યોજવા માટે એકત્રિત થાય છે. આ મંડળ ગુજરાતી ભાષાના પ્રચાર-પ્રસાર માટે સક્રિય રીતે કાર્ય કરે છે અને માતૃભાષાની મહત્વતા અને મૂલ્ય પ્રત્યે પ્રેમ અને આદરની ભાવના વિકસાવે છે.
GSMની સ્થાપના ૧૯૮૪ માં ભૂતપૂર્વ ઉપપ્રાચાર્ય શ્રી વિજય સૂચક દ્વારા કરવામાં આવી હતી. ત્યારથી, તે એક ગતિશીલ મંચ તરીકે વિકસ્યું છે, જ્યાં વિદ્યાર્થીઓ સર્જનાત્મકતા, અને સક્રિય ભાગીદારી દ્વારા ગુજરાતી ભાષાની સમૃદ્ધિનો જીવંત અનુભવ કરે છે.
GSM એવા વિદ્યાર્થીઓને એકત્રિત કરે છે, જેઓ ગુજરાતી સાથે ફરીથી જોડાવા ઈચ્છે છે-માત્ર એક વિષય તરીકે નહીં, પરંતુ એક ઉર્જાસભર, સતત વિકસતી પરંપરા તરીકે, જે અભિવ્યક્તિ, વિચારવિમર્શ અને નિત-નવા અનુભવો દ્વારા સતત આગળ વધે છે. ઋજ્ઞખ સતત એક એવા સંગઠન તરીકે વિકસતું રહ્યું છે, જે ગુજરાતી ભાષા તથા સાહિત્ય પ્રત્યેની સાચી લાગણી અને પ્રેમને મહત્વ આપે છે.
વર્ષ ૨૦૨૫-૨૬ દરમિયાન, GSM એ ૫૫ વિદ્યાર્થીઓને નોંધણી આપી અને તેમના શૈક્ષણિક ક્રેડિટ્સ પૂર્ણ કરવાની જવાબદારી સ્વીકારી. વિદ્યાર્થીઓને તેમના શૈક્ષણિક ક્રેડિટ્સ મેળવવામાં મદદ કરવા માટે વર્ષ ૨૦૨૫-૨૬ દરમિયાન GSM દ્વારા નીચે મુજબ ૧૦ કાર્યક્રમોનું આયોજન કરવામાં આવ્યું હતું.

Annual Report of Placement Cell
Academic Year 2025-26

The Placement Cell of MKES Nagindas Khandwala College actively worked towards enhancing students' employability during the Academic Year 2025–2026 by facilitating internship opportunities, final placements, and skill development initiatives. To prepare students for recruitment processes and enhance employability skills, the Placement Cell organized several soft skill and career development sessions such as Resume Building Workshops, LinkedIn Profile Optimization, Understanding Job Descriptions and Job Roles, Career Guidance and Doubt-Clearing Sessions.

Placement Cell in association with Department of Accountancy successfully organized the MKES Job Fair 2026 on Wednesday, 11th February 2026, at the college auditorium. The objective of this job fair was to provide employment opportunities to graduating students and recent pass-outs and to bridge the gap between academia and industry. A total of 37 companies from various industries such as Information Technology, Finance, Banking, Marketing, Sales, Human Resources, Operations, and other allied sectors participated in the job fair. These organizations offered diverse job roles suitable for students from different academic backgrounds. The job fair received an overwhelming response, with 661 registrations from students across various colleges in Maharashtra. Out of these, approximately 224 students actively participated in the recruitment process on the day of the event. Notably, around 224 students from MKES Nagindas Khandwala College took part in the job fair, reflecting strong internal student engagement. The recruitment process included registration verification, aptitude tests, and HR interviews, as per company requirements. Many students were shortlisted for final interview rounds, and a number of students were selected for job roles across different companies. The event was well-coordinated and smoothly conducted with the support of the college management, faculty members, placement cell team, student volunteers, and administrative staff. The job fair proved to be a valuable platform for students to explore career opportunities, interact with industry professionals, and secure employment.

During the academic year 2025–26, the Placement Cell facilitated internship and placement opportunities for students across First Year (FY), Second Year (SY), and Third Year (TY) programs. A total of 42 companies were shared with students for internship and placement opportunities across various industries. TY students were primarily considered for internship-cum-placement roles, while FY and SY students were offered internship and on-the-job training (OJT) projects to help them gain early industry exposure and practical experience.

As a result of these efforts, a number of students benefited from industry engagement:
184 students were selected for internships and on-the-job training (OJT) projects.
25 students were selected for internship-cum-placement opportunities.
17 students secured final placement offers.

Several organizations participated in offering these opportunities, including Tata Consultancy Services, Imarticus Learning, Silverlink Technologies, BelleVie (Lodha Group), Agarwal Movers & Packers Ltd., etc.

ROTARACT CLUB OF KHANDWALA COLLEGE (RCK)

The Rotaract Club of Khandwala College (RCK) stands as a vibrant platform for dynamic leadership, meaningful service, and holistic growth. Rooted in the spirit of service above self, RCK empowers students to create tangible impact through its diverse avenues—Community Service, Club Service, International Service, Professional Development & Entrepreneurship, Editorial & Publications, and Digital Communication.The academic year 2025–26 commenced with the grand 13th Installation Ceremony, "Uncharted'25," marking the beginning of a new chapter under the leadership of President Rtr. Divya Chheda and his dedicated board. With enthusiasm and a shared vision, the team embraced new responsibilities, setting the tone for an impactful year ahead.

Throughout the year, RCK organized and participated in numerous transformative initiatives. Signature events such as Aashray Walkathon 4.0, Jashn-e-Azadi, RCK Trek to Chinchoti Waterfalls, Kitab Khana book donation drive, Smile for Care Dental Camp, and participation in the inter-college quiz competition "Qui-z-est" reflected the club's commitment to health, education, unity, and engagement. Members also actively contributed to five prestigious Rotary district events, gaining exposure, strengthening networks, and enhancing leadership capabilities on a broader platform. Community Service remained the heart of RCK, with impactful projects like Bandhan Beyond Blood, Ganpati Routecare, Giving for Growth, Guru Purnima celebrations, Pack a Meal, Teachers' Day Celebration, and many more. These initiatives strengthened ties with local communities while instilling empathy, teamwork, and responsibility among members. Editorial & Publications documented and celebrated RCK's journey through creative expressions such as "Ink of Gratitude," "Twisted Tales," and "Shabdh," fostering communication skills and preserving the club's legacy. Professional Development & Entrepreneurship initiatives—including sessions like Career for the Chosen One, Paper to Purpose, Voice of Wellness, and Unity in Diversity—bridged the gap between academics and real-world readiness, equipping members with practical knowledge and confidence.Club Service strengthened internal bonds through engaging activities like the Kala Ghoda Festival visit, Bowling Bash, and RCK Trek, ensuring high team spirit and smooth operations. International Service broadened perspectives through themed events addressing global awareness and social issues, encouraging members to think beyond borders. Meanwhile, Digital Communication amplified RCK's impact online through creative campaigns, Instagram reels, and interactive initiatives like Divine Doodles and Monsoon Ghibli Art, enhancing outreach and adaptability in the digital era.

Through collaborations with organizations such as iVolunteer, Junoon Foundation, ConnectFor, and Spark A Change Foundation, RCK expanded its reach and multiplied its impact. These partnerships enabled large-scale initiatives that addressed health, education, and social welfare, reinforcing the club's reputation as a proactive and innovative force. Beyond executing events, the club nurtured confident leaders, strengthened community bonds, fostered creativity, and built lifelong skills. Rtr. Drishee Mehta was adjudged the Best Member of the club and Rtr. Saher Rawoot, Rtr. Taral Padia and Rtr. Bagha Sri Murugan need a special mention for their contribution towards the club activities. With unwavering dedication, collaborative spirit, and a vision for greater horizons, RCK stands poised for even bigger milestones—continuing its journey of service, growth, and transformative impact.

Report on TEDx-NKC: 3rd Edition
Theme: Beyond the Ordinary

The third edition of TEDx-NKC, organized by Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), was successfully conducted on 12th July 2025 at the College campus. The event aimed to inspire students and participants to challenge conventional thinking and embrace innovation, creativity, and self-growth. The theme "Beyond the Ordinary", unveiled on 1st July 2025, set the tone for an intellectually stimulating and transformative experience that encouraged individuals to explore ideas that push boundaries and redefine possibilities.

TEDx - NKC has consistently served as a platform for sharing powerful ideas, and the third edition continued this legacy by bringing together an exceptional lineup of speakers from diverse backgrounds. The event featured five distinguished speakers who shared their journey, experiences, and insights, motivating the audience to think beyond limitations and pursue meaningful paths in life.

The first speaker, Ms. Nidhi Choudhari, an IAS Officer, author, and artist, delivered a compelling talk titled "Self-Discovery is not a Luxury, it's a Survival." She emphasized the importance of introspection and understanding oneself in a rapidly changing world. Drawing from her personal and professional experiences, she encouraged the audience to embrace self-awareness as a vital tool for resilience and growth.

The second speaker, Mr. Teja Gudluru, a Leadership Coach, spoke on the thought-provoking theme "When Questions Matter More Than Answers." His talk highlighted the power of curiosity and critical thinking in leadership and personal development. He stressed that asking the right questions often leads to deeper insights, innovation, and effective decision-making.

The audience was then inspired by Ms. Dhwani Shah, a lawyer turned life and mindset coach, who presented her talk titled "This Chapter is Yours to Write." She spoke about the importance of taking ownership of one's life story and embracing change with confidence. Her session encouraged students to see challenges as opportunities and to actively shape their own journeys.

Adding a youthful and refreshing perspective, Mr. Armaan Chandnani, a 15-year-old youth advocate and writer, delivered a remarkable talk on "Power of Early Realization." His speech highlighted how awareness and clarity at an early stage in life can influence personal growth and future success. His insights resonated strongly with the young audience, demonstrating that impactful ideas can come from any age.

The final speaker, Ms. Shreeyaa Popat, a Kathak dancer and educator, presented a unique and culturally rich talk titled "Kavitta: The Rap in Kathak." She beautifully explained how traditional art forms like Kathak possess rhythmic storytelling elements similar to modern rap. Through her engaging narrative, she bridged the gap between classical traditions and contemporary expression, leaving the audience fascinated by the depth and relevance of Indian classical art.

The event was attended by enthusiastic students, faculty members, and guests who actively engaged with the speakers' ideas. Each talk reflected the essence of the theme "Beyond the Ordinary," encouraging participants to look beyond routine perspectives and embrace creativity, courage, and self-discovery.

Overall, TEDx-NKC: 3rd Edition proved to be an enriching and inspiring event that celebrated the power of ideas and storytelling. The session not only provided a platform for meaningful dialogue but also motivated the audience to pursue their aspirations with renewed confidence and vision.

The organizing team extends its heartfelt gratitude to all the speakers, volunteers, faculty members, and participants whose support and enthusiasm made the event a memorable success.

A Letter to the Future Me

Dear me, wherever you are,
Have you found the light in every scar?
Do you still chase the moon at night,
Or have you learned to love the sunlight?

Do the dreams I planted bloom,
Or did they wither, lost too soon?
Did you dance through storms with grace,
Or let the rain streak down your face?
I hope you've learned to stand up tall,
To rise each time you take a fall.
I hope you smile, I hope you heal,
I hope you love the way you feel.

If you're tired, rest, but don't let go,
You're stronger now than you could know.
So when you read these words someday,
Smile at me—I'll be okay.

The Bookshop That Never Asked My Name

I found the bookshop on a day that felt unfinished.

Classes had ended early, but not in a way that felt like freedom more like an interruption. The sky hovered between rain and sunlight, unable to decide what it wanted to be. My phone buzzed with messages stacking one over the other, each carrying an expectation I didn't have the energy to meet. I wasn't searching for anything specific. Not a title. Not even distraction. I only wanted a place where nothing was required of me.

The shop stood quietly between a tailoring store blasting old Hindi songs from a tired speaker and a café where laughter spilled too loudly onto the pavement. It didn't compete for attention. Its signboard was faded, the paint chipped at the edges, as though time had tried to erase it gently and failed. The letters seemed worn but patient.

My feet slowed before I consciously chose to stop.

I pushed the door open.

A bell rang soft, almost polite. Not the sharp clang of modern stores demanding acknowledgment, but a quiet announcement: someone has entered, and that is enough.

Inside, the air felt cooler, heavier with the scent of old paper, wood polish, and something softer like memory. The shelves were crowded, not with rigid symmetry but with a lived-in comfort. Books leaned against one another like old friends sharing weight. Some lay flat in quiet rebellion. Others stood upright, patient and composed. Dust hovered lazily in streaks of sunlight that filtered through the window, making the air itself seem visible.

Behind the counter sat an old man reading.

His posture was relaxed, his body still except for the slow turning of pages. He did not look up when I entered. He did not rush to greet me. And strangely, that absence of urgency felt like welcome. I moved carefully, as if the silence were fragile.

My fingers traced the spines smooth, cracked, embossed in gold, faded to anonymity. Titles passed before my eyes without pressure. For the first time in weeks, I wasn't calculating time in deadlines or lectures. I was simply there.

Near the back, a handwritten sign caught my attention: SECONDHAND BOOKS.

The words felt heavier than they should have. Not discarded. Not unwanted. Just previously held. I pulled out a thin novel, its cover bent slightly at the corners. The pages were yellowed at the edges, soft with age. Inside, a sentence had been underlined in pencil light, careful, deliberate:

Some stories aren't meant to end, only to be passed on.

The line felt less like fiction and more like confession.

I wondered about the person who had drawn that faint line. Were they heartbroken when they read it? Hopeful? Did they underline it because they believed it or because they needed to? Where were they now? Why had they let the book go?

"How much for this?" I asked, holding it up.

The shopkeeper finally looked at me.

His eyes were observant but not intrusive, like someone accustomed to watching people arrive carrying invisible weight. He studied the book in my hand before answering.

"You don't buy that one," he said calmly.

I frowned. "Then why is it on the shelf?"

"It's waiting."

"For what?"

"For someone who needs it."

There was no mysticism in his voice. Just certainty.

I almost laughed, but something stopped me. Instead, I slid the book back into its place, carefully as if returning it to rest.

As I wandered further, I found small remnants of other lives tucked between pages: a pressed flower, fragile as memory; a faded cinema ticket; a grocery list scribbled hurriedly on the back of a receipt; a folded note written in handwriting never meant for me.

Each book felt like a paused conversation.

Standing there between other people's unfinished thoughts, I realized I had been rushing through my own life the same way skimming chapters, searching for conclusions, closing pages before fully understanding them.

"Do people ever come back for these?" I asked quietly.

"Rarely," he said, without bitterness. "Most people don't return to the places that understood them."
The sentence lingered longer than the dust in the sunlight.

At the counter, I chose a simple paperback. Nothing impressive. Nothing that demanded explanation. He rang it up without ceremony and slid it toward me.

He didn't ask for my name. There was no receipt book open, no membership card, no form waiting to be filled.

"Don't you need it?" I asked.

He looked at me for a moment, not curiously, not sceptically just thoughtfully.
"People come here carrying too many names already," he said gently. "Student. Son. Friend. Something they're supposed to become." He nudged the book toward me. "In here, they're just readers."

The simplicity of it settled somewhere deep.

Outside, the world resumed its volume. Buses roared past. Conversations overlapped. The café laughter returned, bright and careless. My phone vibrated again, insistent as ever.
But something inside me had shifted quietly, like a page turning.

I walked away carrying more than a book.

I walked away unnamed.

I never went back not because I didn't want to, but because some places are not meant to become habits. They are meant to exist as reminders. Like margins in a book. Like underlined sentences. Like unfinished days.

That bookshop still exists in my mind quiet, patient, dust floating in light.

Not asking names.
Just offering stories to those who pause long enough to listen.

We left this world

We left this world in terror,
The terror of just going on a trip,
The terror of following our religion,
The terror of seeing our wives in pain.

We left this world lonely,
Lonely because we couldn't return to our home, Lonely because we couldn't complete our dream vaccation, Lonely because we couldn't meet our loved ones
We left this world hungry,
Hungry for the food,
Hungry for those unfinished plates,
The plates where we wanted to serve our dreams.

We left this world in grief,
In grief that we won't be able to take care of family now, In the grief of going to the office that day,
In the grief why I decided to board the train.

We all left this world feeling alienated and ungrateful, But it's your time to be a little faithful,
To hug your family a little more today,
Like tomorrow there will be no other day.

Wish

A lash had fallen on my cheek, Feels a time, to make a wish. Close my eyes, gave a thought, Faces came like a slot.

What if I get, the love I had, Or stop the airplane, to land? What if I wish to do the art, Dumping everything, just apart.

What if I got, the cat I lost. The mistakes that, made me cost. What if I been, a good daughter, Or gift my family endless laughter.

Thought to God, I said, So many wishes to be made. Not for a greedy cause, but for everything right, To make myself as a peaceful sight.

Close my eyes, at last I wish, "Make all things right in Your own way. Though it hurts, my trust stays true, Let my final days be peaceful through.

We're Not Lazy. We're Overwhelmed

There's a joke in every college classroom.
"Why are you so tired?"
"Because I exist."
Everyone laughs. But no one really thinks it's funny.
We call ourselves lazy. Our parents call us distracted. Professors call us inconsistent. Social media calls us unproductive.
But what if we're not lazy?
What if we're just overwhelmed?
We are the generation that wakes up and immediately checks three worlds at once real life, WhatsApp life, and Instagram life. Before we've even brushed our teeth, we've already compared ourselves to someone who woke up at 5 AM, did yoga, journaled, started a startup, and somehow still has glowing skin.
Meanwhile, we're just trying to submit one assignment before midnight.
College today isn't just about lectures and attendance. It's internships, certificates, skill courses, networking, side hustles, fitness goals, perfect friendships, social presence, and somehow maintaining mental stability.
We're told: "Enjoy your college life. These are the best years."
But no one talks about the silent pressure that sits beside us in every classroom.
The pressure to:
Score well.
Look good.
Be social but not too loud.
Be ambitious but not arrogant.
Be confident but not intimidating.
Be successful... before we even know who we are.
And when we can't do it all?
We label ourselves lazy.
Lazy because we slept instead of studying.
Lazy because we didn't attend that extra webinar. Lazy because we needed a break.
Lazy because we cried. Lazy because we felt stuck.
But exhaustion is not laziness.
Burnout is not laziness.
Feeling lost at 19 is not laziness.
We are navigating a world that moves faster than our emotional capacity sometimes. We are making career decisions before fully understanding ourselves. We are building resumes while still building identities.
And that's heavy.
We romanticize "hustle culture"
the 5 AM routines, color-coded planners, productivity reels. But we rarely talk about the anxiety attacks behind those aesthetic study tables.
Some of us are fighting battles no one sees:
Family expectations.
Financial pressure.
Body image struggles.
Comparison with "that topper."
Fear of disappointing people.
And still, we show up.
Still, we attend lectures. Still, we submit projects. Still, we laugh in the canteen. Still, we try. That is not laziness.
That is strength.
Maybe what we need isn't another motivational quote about "working harder."
Maybe what we need is permission to pause.
To rest without guilt. To choose slow growth. To accept average days. To not have everything figured out.
College is not a race. It's not a competition to see who achieves adulthood first.
It's a messy, confusing, beautiful transition.
Some days we'll be productive. Some days we'll Just survive.
Both count.
So the next time you call yourself lazy, pause for a second.
Ask yourself: Am I lazy... or am I just tired of carrying too much at once?
Because maybe just maybe we're not lazy. We're learning. overwhelmed. We're adapting. We're
And we're doing the best we can.

A Letter from the Motherland

Letter from the Motherland,
To make you glad.

My sincere dears,
I have waited for eighteen years.

Eagerly awaiting to tell you,
Officially, adults now, yes, it's true.

To inspire you to exercise your franchise,
Through which you can recognize, analyse, and criticize.

Your vote is so valuable,
As a result, you are presentable.

It is your right and your duty to vote,
And you must fulfil both.

Wishing you a happy adulthood,
I hope everything is understood.

National Voters Day, celebrated on 25 January, inspires young people to take part in the electoral process. This poem celebrates the power of every young vote and encourages them to make their voices heard.

INNER CHILD :)

There's a child hiding inside
Who's told to silence it's cry
To portray a matured person
That has responsibilities obliged

That child wants to express
And be carefree for once
Leave responsibilities behind
And gain it's sparkle back

But society has different plans
Keeps a baggage on that child
Thoughts about the family
Has caged that child inside

Can the child be free for once
Let it jump , scream and run
For if it's too late
The child will suffocate

The society is too strict
Covered with clouds of limits
The child is quite innocent
Please don't limit it's reach

That child might be a memory
But it's inside everybody
Don't let it give up
Give it a chance to live!

WHEN NATURE TEACHES US TO LIVE

Life moves as nature does soft at dawn, wild at noon.
The sky shifts, winds wander,
yet balance always returns.
We too are a small boat on a vast ocean steady some days, trembling on others.
Waves rise and fall,
but lose not thy centre,
for strength sleeps within us.
Storms come uninvited,
roaring with fear,
yet every tempest ends,
and morning light keeps its promise.
Mistakes will happen
be neither shaken nor confused.
Nature itself never walks in straight lines.
Step forward gently, bravely.
The butterfly once a hidden larva takes its time, grows its wings,
and unfolds a beauty no one foresaw.
Growth is slow,
yet transformation is true.
Trees stand tall through seasons,
bending but never breaking,
roots holding their quiet strength.
The honeybee turns small moments sweet;
it needs the bloom, the bloom needs the bee
so too do we need souls who lift our hearts.
Even tiny creatures speak wisdom
The ant carrying more than its weight teaches effort;
The birds returning after long journeys teach hope;
the river slipping past stones teaches us to move on. Nature whispers in breezes, sunlight and clear blue skies,
that beauty survives even the hardest days.
The past is gone,
the future unwritten
only the present breathes.
So move with grace,
grow with patience,
love softly,
and live this tender gift of life
fully, and fearlessly.

In the journey of life, through every twist and turn,
Women stand tall, their love forever will burn.
When Mom left me, just at age one, My granny embraced me, like the warmth of the sun.
When love faded, and my heart felt blue, My best friend held me, saw me through.
In moments of pain, when tears would flow, My sister's embrace, like a gentle, healing glow.
Women, pillars of strength, in every stormy weather,
Their love and care, binding us together.
On Women's Day, let's honor and say, To the women who guide us, every step of the way.

Rakh Sako Toh Ek Nishani Hu Mein

Rakh sako toh ek nishani hu mein
Koh doh toh sirf ek kahani ho mein
Rokh nah paaye jisko yeh saari duniya
Woh ek boond aankh kah paani ho mein.

Sabko pyaar dene ki aadat hain humey
Apni alag pehchan banane ki aadat hain humey
Kitna bhi ghera zakham kyu nah hoon
Utna hi zyada muskurane ki aadat hain humey.

Iss aajanabi duniya mein akeli khwab hu mein
Sawalo seh kaafa chota sah jawab hu mein
Joh samajh nah sake unke liye kaun
Aur joh samjh gaye unke liye khuli kitaab hu mein.

Aankho mein dekho Toh muje khush paunge
Dil seh puchoge toh dard kah sailab hu mein
Agar rakh sako toh ek nishani ho mein
Koh doh ek kahani ho mein.

Har Baat Ka Koi Jawab Nahi Hota

Har baat ka koi jawab nahi hota
Har ishq kah naam kharab nahi hota.
Yuh toh jhoom lete hain nashe mein pine wale
Magar har nashe ka naam sharab nahi hota.

Khamosh chehre par hazaro pehre hote hain
Hasti aankho par bhi zakham ghere hote hain
Jinse akar rooth jaate hain hum

Unse hi rishte aksar ghere haot hain.
Kisine neh khuda se dua mangi
Dua mein usne khud ki maut mangi,
Khuda neh kaha maut dedo tuje magar
Usse kya kahu jisne teri zindagi ki dua mangi.

Magar kasoor hawa kah nahi hota.

Sochti Hoon Kii Kabh Yeh Pal Beith Jaye

Sochti hoon kii kabh yeh pal beith jaye
Kehti hoon kii kabh yeh waqt ruk jaye.

Zindagi kii daud neh esa muje baana diya
Joh waqt ki pehchan hii bhul jaye.

Insaan samay aaney par yaad aatein hain
Insaan lamho keh saath humko bhul jaatein hain
Toh Kyu hamesha woh hii yaad aatein hain jissey hum bhul nah paatein hain.

Kisike saath bithaye lamho meh kho jaana,
Kisike saath bithaye yaadoon seh rooh jaana.

Toh Kyu hamesha waqt aaney par woh bithaye hue chize dikh jaati hain jissey hum bhul nah paatein hain.

Lekin aaj bhi kyu woh lamhe yaad aatein hain joh samay ke saath beith nhi jaatein hain.

हे मानव क्यों डरता है तू

हे मानव क्यों डरता है तू ?
है क्या तेरे बस में बोल
कल की चिंता न कर प्यारे!
कहता जा सिर्फ हरि बोल...
जो तूने चाहा, न आज मिला न कल!
हर दुविधा का प्यारे न है कोई विकल्प।
भज ले हरि का नाम, कहता जा तू शाम
एक दिन आएगा जब सब कहेंगे तेरा नाम।
कर मेहनत इतनी, कि सफल हो हर युक्ति।
पर मोह न रखना कैसा भी
क्योंकि ये देह तो है सिर्फ मिट्टी!
सब हैं मुसाफिर तेरे जीवन के
न हैं कोई वस्तु।
ईश्वर ही है एक मात्र सच!
इतना याद रखना तू।
हे मानव क्यों डरता है तू?
है क्या तेरे बस में बोल
कल की चिंता न कर प्यारे!
कहता जा सिर्फ हरि बोल...

अथक प्रयास

जीवन की एक ही उलझन, कैसे बनू मैं सज्जन?
प्रयास तो किये कई, पर सफलता प्राप्त नहीं हुई ।
फिर पता चला एक राज़, करता जा प्यारे अथक प्रयास

नाम कमाया, मिली सफलता ।
मिले कई लोग जिनमें थी अधिक प्रबलता
उन लोगों से सीखा एक ही आगाज़,
करना है बस अथक प्रयास ।

जीवन एक कश्ती है, न है कोई खिलौना
जो यदि डगमगा जाए, तो है न रोना !
उसे पार लगाने का है एक ही राज़,
करना है बस अथक प्रयास ।

अथक प्रयास करते करते यदि तुम थक जाओ,
तब प्रभु की शरण में आ जाओ,
मिलेगी तुम्हें ऐसी ऊर्जा, ताज़ा हो जाएगा पुर्जा पुर्जा !
और फिर याद आएगी वही बात,
करना है बस अथक प्रयास ।

माँ

माँ तो जन्नत का फूल है,
प्यार करना उसका उसूल है
दुनिया की मोहब्बत फिजूल है,
माँ की हर दुआ कबुल है,
माँ को नाराज करना तेरी भूल है,
माँ के कदमों की मिट्टी जन्नत की धूल है ।
माँ की ममता सबसे प्यारी,
सबसे सुंदर सबसे न्यारी ।
माँ की एक दुआ जिंदगी बना देती है ।
कभी भूल के भीना माँ को रूलाना,
एक छोटी सी गलती पूरा अर्श हिला देगी ।
जिस के होने से मैं
खुद को पर परफेक्ट मानती हूँ ।
मेरे रब के बाद
में वस मेरी माँ को जानती हूँ ।
खूबसूरती की इंतहा देखी,
जब मैंने मुस्कुराती हुई 'माँ' देखी ।।

Zindagi ek kitaab si lagti hai, Kuch panne dil se padhe jaate hain, kuch bas guzar jaate hain.
Achhi ho toh har lafz sukoon deta hai, Buri ho toh bas anjaam ka intezaar hota hai.
Par seekh yehi hai kitaab ki, Har panna poora padhna zaroori hai, Kyunki adhuri kahaniyon ka koi agla safar nahi hota.

चलती रहती है वो टूटकर भी,
सपनों को दिल में जगा कर भी।
मंज़िल अब तक मिली नहीं,
पर हिम्मत उसने खोई नहीं।
हर रात थककर सो जाती है,
सुबह फिर से लड़ जाती है।
किस्मत चाहे देर करे,
पर कोशिशें वो कम न करे।
लोग कहते हैं--- ''अब तक क्या पाया?
वो हँसकर कह देती है--- ''मैंने हार न खाया।''
एक दिन उसकी मेहनत रंग लाएगी,
और दुनिया उसकी कहानी दोहराएगी।

जो अंधारातसुद्धा
वाट दाखवतो.

सगळ्यांना खुश ठेवताना
मी स्वतःला विसरले,
आज पहिल्यांदा
माझ्या बाजूने उभी राहते.

माझ्या शांततेचा
फायदा घेतला गेला,
पण आता
माझं मौनच
माझं उत्तर असेल.

मी मागतेय
जास्त काही नाही
फक्त सन्मान,
जो मला जन्मतः मिळालेला
हक्क आहे.

आता मी थांबणार नाही,
माझ्या मूल्यांसाठी लढेन,
कारण स्वाभिमानाशिवाय
जगणं म्हणजे
हळूहळू मरण.

आज मी ठरवलं आहे
मी कमी पडणार नाही,
मी झुकणार नाही,
मी स्वतःसाठी
ठाम उभी राहीन.

સપનો ની ઊંચાઇ

નાની ઉંમર માં,
મનમાં લઈ ને એક વિચાર,
પડશે સાચા કે ખોટા,
સપના જોયા મેં મોટા!

હવે જરા મોટી થઈ,
જોઈ મેં પપ્પાની આંખોમાં આશ,
મમ્મી ના હૃદયમાં અભિલાષા,

લોકો આવીને બોલ્યા, ઘરની મોટી દીકરી છો.
આટલા સપના ના જો.
શીખ ઘરનું કામ,
સાસરીમાં બનાવ જે પોતાનું નામ!!

પણ, હું તો મારા પપ્પાની લાડકી દીકરી છું.
હું તો ખાલી મારા મનનું જ કરું.
સાંભળીને ફટાક મારા દિલનો અવાજ,
નાની ઉમરમાં જોયેલા સપના પૂરા કરીં,
પહેરાવીશ મારા મમ્મી પપ્પા ને ગરવ નો
તાજ!
