Description

The Big Bull, organized by the Rotaract Club of Khandwala, was a high-energy stock market simulation designed to enhance participants' understanding of trading, market trends, and financial decision-making. With the aim of promoting financial literacy and risk management, the event challenged students to manage virtual portfolios, make real-time trading decisions, and apply strategic thinking in a simulated environment. Participants competed for top rankings based on portfolio performance, with special recognition for ethical and innovative trading. All attendees earned 3 co-curricular hours, and feedback highlighted the event's relevance, organization, and engaging format. The Big Bull successfully blended education with competition, leaving a strong foundation for future finance-based initiatives.
